What is hobotech on YouTube?

YouTube is full of weird and wonderful stuff, and weird and wonderful often combine into something remarkable, such as Hobotech. Hobotech is a YouTube channel that reviews a wide variety of off-grid solar products- solar generators, panels, batteries, inverters, fridges, etc.

What is the hobotech channel?

The Hobotech channel was started about four years ago. Initially, the channel did not focus on solar, and Professor Hobo, a.k.a. Tom, covered stuff like e-bikes, porch lights, window repairs, and PC installs. Over time, the Professor started sharing videos about solar panel installation on an RV, especially since his foray into the van life.

Who is Professor Hobo?

The channel is hosted by the quirky Professor Hobo, a middle-aged tech-nerd sporting a lab coat, a long goatee, and a ponytail. He does this with a unique style and tone, sometimes acting as a "crazy genius" scientist.
