How do you replace a vinyl touchpad?

Rub the clean rag across the affected surface to pull up any remaining debris. Allow the surface to dry for at least 2 hours. Mount the new vinyl touchpad. Cut a rectangle out of self-adhesive vinyl the same size as the original touchpad using a small utility knife and metal straightedge.

How do you remove vinyl coating from a laptop?

Scrape the worn coating off using a flexible plastic putty knife with a 1-inch blade. Hold the putty knife at a 10- to 20-degree angle and push the blade away from the laptop's keys to avoid damaging them. Add additional citrus-based cleaner to loosen the coating, if necessary. Prepare the touchpad for its new vinyl coating.

How do you replace a touchpad?

Peel off the paper backing from the vinyl. Position the vinyl on the old touchpad's location. Use the plastic putty knife to squeeze out any air bubbles from the mounted vinyl and permanently adhere it to the case's surface. Prepare the touchpad for its new vinyl coating.
