Will cross-party discussions slow the growth of solar in Germany?

Cross-party discussions and the resulting uncertainties about future developments and political support continue to burden the European PV industry. Unlike in Spain and Poland, for example, this does not necessarily seem to be slowing down the growth of solar in Germany. After a successful year in 2023, the new year began with promising figures.

Why are so many PV module manufacturers threatening to shut down?

A growing number of PV module manufacturers are threatening to shut down their production facilities in Europe due to the ongoing low-price trend. Some want to give up, while others want to move to the United States, where there are supposedly better market and funding conditions.
